

IRRIMAX CORPORATION RESPONDS TO COVID-19

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

On behalf of Irrimax Corporation – manufacturer of Irrisept® and Irrimax® products – thank you for your commitment and understanding during the challenge presented by COVID-19.

It has never been more evident than today that our Healthcare providers, facilities, and corporations are the foundations of our communities.

Our priority remains the safety and welfare of our employees and business partners while continuing to serve our customer's needs to the very best of our ability.

Irrimax is conducting daily and weekly assessments of our Operations network and corresponding Supply to ensure we are prepared to respond effectively to customer demand through this uncertain time.

Our medical affairs and sales support teams are using webinars and remote communication tools to continue meeting our customers' needs and requests for information. We are still here for you!

Irrimax is of course closely monitoring this everchanging situation, as is the world. Please know our company is navigating and adapting as information becomes more available. We will update this message, as needed, to continue serving our customers to the best of our ability.

Thank you again for your commitment to meet the challenge presented by COVID-19. Irrimax stands ready to assist you in meeting that challenge.
